REPORT OF SCHOOL BOARD.

FELLOW TOWNSMEN: Again it becomes our duty and pleasure to give an accounting of our care of your schools and the expenditure of your school money.

It has been our earnest endeavor to secure the best teachers, experienced, when possible. We believe every teacher has worked earnestly to make interest in their respective schools, and has given reasonable satisfaction to both parents and school board.

In all the schools good progress has been made, and in some we find classes which we believe are equal to those of the same age in city graded schools.

We are glad to notice that those who go from our schools to seek the larger advantages of neighboring high school or academy stand higher in their classes than the average.

We are glad to note the increased number of visits of parents and others in some of our schools, showing interest in the progress of pupils and giving encouragement to teachers. We also regret the lack of visits by parents in one or two schools, and we wish they would awaken to more interest and coöperate in a greater degree with teachers to have their children make the most of their school days, which are too short for preparation for life's work.

We have visited each school several times during each term, at such times as seemed to us best for noting the progress and advising teachers when needed.

Our registers show an increased number of scholars over previous years, and the average attendance while good could, we believe, be improved with the help of parents.

Repairs have been made economically where necessary. Our text-books have been satisfactory and have not been changed.

We have maintained seven schools during the year with thirty weeks' school for each one.

We desire to especially call your attention to the subject of education.

In the broadest sense of the word education is made up of the individual experiences from childhood to the grave. Education is the door by which the intelligent mind may pass from ignorance to knowledge.

The foundation of the prosperity, wealth and greatness of our country was laid by education. In foreign countries, with few exceptions, education is not for the common class of the people but for the nobility and the ruling class. In America all are given the privilege, and between certain ages are compelled by state laws to attend school.

Education increases the usefulness and ability of the individual, increases his earning capacity, makes him a better citizen.

Education disciplines and strengthens the memory, furnishes facts from which we may reason, and gives the foundation for more accurate judgment.

It is the duty of our schools and teachers to inform the intellect and mold the character of the young intrusted to their care, and it is as much of interest and duty for the parents to heartily coöperate with them, to the end that the coming generation may make honest, industrious and intelligent citizens.

Respectfully submitted,

FRANK E. COLBY.
